BROOKHAVEN NATIONAL LABORATORY

About myself:

- I'm currently Goldhaber Fellow in the Chemistry Dept. here at BNL
- An active member of BERA. I am involved mostly with the BBC, am an ex-personal trainer, and fitness enthusiast.
- Enjoy volunteering and making a difference for others.
- Was a co-leader of the Management Consulting Student Interest group during my Ph.D. at Yale, and am experienced in aiding others explore career paths, even if they are not in science.

My interest in ASAP leadership:

I'd like to change ASAP's reputation as a "once-weekly dinner in the ASAP lounge" to an active part of life for young professionals at BNL, and to involve all postdocs (many currently do not participate). Some areas that I'd like to focus on are:

- Increase the standard of living and quality of life for postdocs at BNL.
- Increase the ASAP community engagement both inside and outside BNL.
- Generate networking events, career guidance and job opportunities for BNL postdocs.
- Help new postdocs transition into Long Island and BNL.

I have a number of ideas on how to do this, am experienced in forming new initiatives. Ultimately, I'd like postdocs to succeed both here at BNL and in their futures.
